PART 1: TITLE & DESIGNATION

1. Introduction

The Village of Grand Manan (the Village) is a New Brunswick island located in the Bay of Fundy. It has an area of 152.77 square kilometers and a population of approximately 2595 as of the 2021 Government of Canada Census. Though the island originally consisted of the Villages of North Head, Grand Harbour and Seal Cove, and the local service districts of Castalia and Woodward's Cove, they amalgamated into one village in 1995. The Village is currently represented by one mayor and nine councillors.

With the fishing industry as the Island's primary economic driver, Grand Manan is a community focused on the coast. Wharves dominate the northwestern coastline where the commercial ferry service and commercial fisheries operations are centralized. The Island's rich history attracts visitors from around the world who come to take in the scenic views, outdoor activities, and quaint shops and services. The Island offers residents a high quality of life with a growing list of amenities including active recreation, arts and culture, and programming for all ages. Grand Manan is an island with small town character and a strong sense of community that will continue to provide its residents with a safe and enjoyable place to call home for generations to come.

Grand Manan is growing. The Village population increased 10% between the 2016 and 2021 census, with an increase in population from 2360 to 2595. The population is also ageing with 22% of the population reported to be 65 years of age or older. The working age population, those between 15 and 64 years of age, make up 60% of the Island's population, leaving the remaining 18% 14 years of age or younger. This distribution suggests, on average, smaller household sizes; with the Census reporting the average household size in Grand Manan at 2.2 persons, there are 395 single person households and 440 two person households. Of the 1180 dwellings on the Island, nearly 71% have two people or less. This evolution from the large family-centre household is creating a change in demand for housing as people age out of their larger homes and seek out more manageable space in the community they love. As Grand Manan continues to see incremental growth over the next 10 years, responding to these new housing demands while retaining the working age population will be a critical priority.

The following document provides a guiding policy framework and land use regulation for the general facilitation and administration of development in the Village of Grand Manan. The policies and proposals outline Village Council's intentions with respect to the management of lands on the Island. These policies and proposals are implemented through the Zoning Standards with the intention of setting the standard for high quality, sustainable development throughout the Village of Grand Manan.

1.4 Purpose

The Rural Plan sets out the Council’s long-term policies and proposals to guide future land use development. The Plan is intended for use by Council and residents to guide day-to-day decisions with respect to land use development and capital expenditures. The Rural Plan should be reviewed every five years in accordance with the provisions of the Community Planning Act. Periodic amendments to the Plan may be required. These should be undertaken with due process, including public consultation, as outlined in the Community Planning Act for rural plan amendments.

The adoption of a Rural Plan does not commit the Village or Province to undertake any proposal therein stated, as per Section 27 of the Community Planning Act, but shall prevent the undertaking of any development that is inconsistent or at variance with:

- a. In the case of the Village, any proposal or policy so outlined or suggested; or
- b. in the case of the Province or a person, any policy or proposal so outlined or suggested

In this Rural Plan, a Policy is a statement reflecting community objectives and outlining a means to achieve them. Policies are the foundation of the Rural Plan. All other components of the Rural Plan, including the zoning and development standards, as well as any amendments thereto, are to conform to the intent of these policies. Proposals are actions that are desirable, but not essential to meeting the objectives of the Rural Plan.
